FULL DESCRIPTION OF TRAINING CONTENT

This Inclusive Education course is for teachers who are currently teaching, or preparing to teach, and are interested in exploring an integrated approach to Inclusion. This course is an introduction to Inclusion and Special Educational Needs (SEN), with an emphasis on learning and meeting the needs of specific individuals and groups of learners in an inclusive way. Teachers from any subject/discipline are welcome to join the course. Morning sessions focus on language development where participants gain confidence in using English. The afternoon methodology sessions introduce fresh and communicative approaches to Inclusive Education and learning.

PREPARATION

All participants complete an enrolment form with the following information:

- Personal details
- Age of students
- Subject(s) taught
- English language level
- *If you are not a teacher of English then we recommend you take our online placement test (details in letter of acceptance)

An optional four week e-learning phase precedes the two week course at Anglolang. This focuses on language, culture and activities based around SEN methodology.

Before arriving in Scarborough, participants receive details of their accommodation. If this is a homestay provider, a family description is provided.

OBJECTIVES

By experiencing a range of practical teaching techniques, participants will expand their own working classroom ideas while refreshing and developing their English language proficiency.

By the end of the course participants will have:

- Collected a portfolio of teaching resources appropriate to Inclusive Education teaching
- Increased their awareness of Inclusive Education and how to cater to individual learning needs effectively through English
- Increased their awareness of how learning styles affect teaching
- Shared ideas and experiences
- Increased awareness of how cultural backgrounds can affect classroom dynamics
- Created a network of teaching contacts within Europe

METHODOLOGY

This course uses a wide variety of communicative activities to develop language competence and also builds students' confidence in teaching through English. Participants will have the opportunity to expand specific subject vocabulary as well as participate in practical group methodology sessions which provide them with ideas and materials that they can use upon their return to their own country. They will take part in workshops, open discussions and a study visit during term time (e.g. a primary or secondary school) or a place of cultural interest (non-term time). The exact content of the course is negotiated before and throughout the course to take into account the specific needs and developing interests of each group.

Participants are grouped according to their English level for morning language development sessions and are encouraged to reflect on how they could adapt the activities demonstrated in lessons for use in their own classrooms. Afternoon Inclusive Education methodology sessions are grouped as far as possible according to teaching context.
